A NEWSPAPER MEASURE

MR. PATTESON WANTS A CONSTITU. TION LIKE MISSISSIPPI'S,

Which Prescribes that Every Voter Must be Able to Read the State Constituion or Understand it when Read.

The House of Delegates was called to order at noon yesterday by Mr. Ryan, and Messrs. Harwood and Downing were called to the chair during the session. In the absence of a minister, the proceedings were opened without prayer. An amount of business was disposed of and much discussion ensued over the Withers' constitutional convention bill and other measures. Mr Withers took up the discussion of the measure where he left off yesterday and advocated his bill at length. He said that he had been reported incorrectly in regard to some of the figures presented by him the day before. He again went into the expenditures for the conduct of the State Government. and, by comparison and statistics, show-ed that the system in vogue in Virginia is more costly than it should be, and should be corrected by a constitutional amendment. He said that the party which stands in the way of the passage of such a bill will absolutely be wiped from the face of the earth.

Mr. Moon opposed the convention idea, and held that any needed changes could better be made and with less cost by submitting the amendments direct to a vote of the people.

Mr. Patteson supported Mr. Withers in a spirited argument, and advocated a convention on the ground that it was urgently needed in regard to the right of suffrage, and took occasion to pro-nounce as false the charges as to elec-tion frauds in Southside Virginia. He advocated a constitution similar to the Mississippi constitution. Said be, 1 want Vrginia to follow the lead of Miselssippl. I want a constitution passed which will allow no man in the State of Virgina to vote unless he can read the Virginia constitution or understand it whea read. He said that the State could be redistricted so as to give one repre-sentativa to every thirty thousand votes and assure the supremucy of the white race in Virginia. At the close of Mr. Patteson's speech the bill went over to another day, Mr. McRac, of Petersburg, offered in House a bill to define newspaper libel and to provide for the procedure in such action for the same, and to present liability in such action. This bill is modelled after the Georgia law on the subject, and is the result of the labors of committee appointed on such legislation by the Virginia Press Association.

The bill provides that any false and maliclous defamation of another, expressed in print in any newspaper, magazine or periodical tending to injure the reputation of an individual and expose him to public hatred, contempt or ridicule shall constitute a newspaper libel, publication of such libellious matter being essential to recovery.

2. In all actions for newspaper libel proof of actual malice may be admitted as evidence to support damages. Such evidence may be rebutted by proof, which, in case of privileged communica-tions, will be in har of recovery. 2. Before any suit shall be brought for the publication of libel in any newspaper in this State the aggrieved party shall, at least three days before filing or serving the complaint in such suit, serve notice proof of actual malice may be admitted the complaint in such suit, serve notice in writing on the publisher, or publishers, of said newspapers at their principal of-nice of publication, specifying the statement in the article or articles which he or they allege to be false or defamatory. If it shall appear on the trial of said ac-tion that the said article was published in good faith: that its falsity was due to mistake or misapprehension of the facts, and that a full and fair retraction of any statement therein alleged to be erroneous was published in the next requar issue of said necessarily. lar issue of said newspaper, or within three days after receipt of said written notice as above provided, then the plaintiff in such case shail recover only actual damages. And if said retraction as hereinbefore provided is not made then the failure to make said retraction shall be taken as proof of malice.

4. The words "actual damages" in the foregoing section shall be construed to include all the damages that the plaintiff may show that he has suffered in respect to his property, business, trade, profesor occupation, and no other damage

FIRE IN THE TIMES BUILDING. Originated in the R. & D. Office and the Damage Was mall. About midnight the e 'ire force of The Times noticed that the nalls of the building, in which the force was at work, were being filled with smoke. With one accord they started on an investigating tour of the building. In about two minutes a member of the editorial staff located the fire on the second floor, in the office of General Freight Agent Drake, of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, whose offices occupy the second floor

One of the reporters kicked in the door and the smoke rushed out in torrents, nearly stifling those in the hall. Despite this fact, they pushed their way into the room, and turned on the hose, which is kept ready for immediate use in the hall, and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze, which had not gained very much headway, as the windows were all closed tight, and no draft getting to the fire its progress was impeded. An alarm was turned in from the pri-vate box, No. 565, in the building, but when engines 3, 4, and 7 appeared on the scene a few minutes later, the efforts of the volunteers had succeeded in preventing all possible danger in the building. One or two firemen cut away a portion of the floor, just over the office of Chewning & Rose, who occupy one of the Tenth street offices on the ground floor. The back door of this office was broken in and an investigation into the car of the fire held, but it could not traced. There is a large mass of records in the office of the Danville company, and it is probable that a lighted cigar or cigarette might have been dropped among them.

The damage is slight, but the volume of water went through the floor to The Times presses, in the basement, and

A Large Choir to Sing

There is every probability that Rev. D. L. Moody, the evangelist, will begin a series of Gospel meetings in Richmoud about the middle of next month.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association, held a few days ago, a committee was appointed to go to Washington, where the great evangelist is now preaching, and interview him as to whether his engagements would permit him to come to Richmond in the near

This committee consisted of Mr. S. W. Travers, the president of the Associa-tion; Mr. Tibbitts, the secretary, and Rev. Dr. Tudor. These gentlemen saw Mr. Moody in Washington yesterday, and he expressed great interest in Richmond and said that nothing would afford him more pleasure than a visit to this city, although he could not fully make up his mind at that time, owing to circum-

The matter of a ball has also been discussed at length since the committee's return. The armory has been mentioned as the proper place, but the preference seems to be for the erection of a large temporary structure at the corner of fith and Main streets—the old Allen

While Mr. Moody did not give any posi-tive assurance that he would come there is every reason to believe that he will do so. He asked about the chance for a good choir, and on being assured by Secreary Tibbits that he could collect an excellent choir of about 600 voices, the evangelist selected about forty gospel hymns and requested Mr. Tibbits to get hymns and requested Mr. Tibbits to get his choir together and practice them. Mr. Moody will be in Washinston until the 7th of March, and then he will go to Norfolk for about ten days, after which it is believed he will spend ten days or two weeks in Richmond. It has been about ten years since the avangelist was in Richmond, but the meetings which he conducted in the armory are still fresh in the minds of the people of this city. It is especially appropriate that his meetings this time should be under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., as it was by his efforts, as will be remembered, that the present Y. M. C. A. building was crected—at least he gave the movement a good start.
